

Privacy Policy - English

The protection of your personal data is very important to us. We handle your data exclusively in accordance with legal requirements (GDPR, TKG 2021). This privacy policy informs you about how we handle data on our website.

No Collection or Processing of Personal Data

We do not collect, store, or process any personal data through our website. This means that no names, addresses, email addresses, or other personal information are stored or processed.

Contact via Email

Our website offers the option to contact us directly via email. In this case, the data you voluntarily provide (e.g., your email address, name, and message content) will only be used to process your inquiry. These data are not stored on the website but are transmitted directly via your email program to us.

Please note that emails are transmitted without encryption and may have security vulnerabilities. We recommend not sending sensitive information via email.

Use of Cookies

Our website does not use cookies that serve to identify or track users.

Server Log Files

When visiting our website, no data such as IP addresses, browser details, access times, or other information that could identify you as a person are stored.

Third-Party Services

We do not use third-party services (e.g., analytics tools or social media plugins) that could collect data.

Your Rights

You have the right to access, correct, delete, and restrict the processing of the data you have sent to us. For any related inquiries, please contact us at the email address provided below.
